Children are always excited to learn about animals, their young ones, where they live, what they eat. Kids made models of Wild animals, Farm animals, their homes, young ones, etc. The benefits of eating fruit and vegetables were explained through charts and models. For transport, various modes of transport were displayed, the highlight being eco-friendly vehicles.

Models of various parts of our body and its functions were well explained by the children. Children made working models and explained about the inventions which are useful to mankind. Children made models of the glory of nature and talked about measures on protecting mother earth.

Overall, it was a great learning experience for our children.
